Dear Mr. Arteaga,

On behalf of the 101st Combat Aviation Brigade, I would like to personally thank your company for its outstanding product and support of the nations continued efforts to fight the War on Terror. While deployed to Tikrit, Iraq, the Destiny Brigade supported operation Iraqi Freedom for a one-year deployment. The CUBEX system your company provided to our unit allowed us to track over 100 aviation platforms and other logistics requirements in support of this mission. The equipment held up flawlessly in extremely austere conditions of an extremely hot and dusty desert environment.

The Brigade returned and as part of our reset of all of our equipment, provided power to the unit in America and was not able to get the unit to operate properly. This was most likely due to the large amount of dust and the transport of the equipment around the world. You personally provided outstanding support and timely response in getting this equipment back up and operational to support our automation requirements for our next Rendezvous with Destiny. We fully endorse your product and support operations and would highly recommend it to other military units going into a combat environment.

Feel free to contact me at michael.sorrentino@us.army.mil or (270) 956-3483.

“Wings of Destiny”
